DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed 8-15-05 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because it does not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each non-patent literature listed that is not in the English language. The non-English language references have not therefore been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Loechl in view of Schock.

Loechl discloses a conveyor for moving gypsum boards, spray arms, base frame, a plurality of spray nozzles and pump system (see figures 1-3; col 3, lines 17-56).

Loechl does not disclose spraying arms with pivot mounting to pivot from operative positions.

Schock discloses pivot arms for spray heads (fig 1).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include pivot arms for spray heads because Scgock teaches uniformity as desirable in the spraying art (col 1, lines 15-25).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Schock appears in figure 1 to include moving to an inoperative position that is not over the conveyor. The drawing figure discloses what is shown. Applicant argues that there is no disclosure "to travel away" from the web. Since there is shown the nozzle at a position beyond the web, there is shown an inoperable position. There has not been claimed a further definition of what is an "inoperable" position.

There is shown a different problem in the art for combining the references than is disclosed by applicant, but which is just as valid as applicant's.

Loechl discloses a support beam with nozzle clusters at different distances. No further definition is recited in the claims as to what is defined as a cluster.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
